INFLATION HITS FINES

Aberdeen, Miss.- The fine for parking overtime in this northeast Mississippi town has been hit by inflation. It used to be a nickel but at the beginning of 1957, it was raised to 25 cents.

Some economists say it will take more than $400,000,000 of hard currency to put Hungary back on its feet.

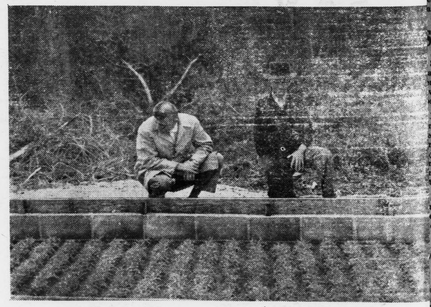
HANOVER TOMATO FARM RAISES BETTER PLANTS—ELECTRICALLY

"NOW I CONTROL the temperature," says George B. Barker of Hanover County, examining new electric hotbed that replaces an old manure type. The new 38 x 6 foot bed cost only $130 to build and used about 900 kilowatt hours during the five-week growing season, reports this progressive tomato and pepper grower.



UNIFORM GROWTH of tomato plants wins admiration of Mr. Barker's father and VEPCO Rural Engineer, Frank Soucek, who helped plan the installation. With thermostatically-controlled heating cable, the Barkers say, "A lot less time is required to care for the beds. You couldn't regulate the heat of the old manure bed."

TO FARM BETTER ELECTRICALLY consult your Vepco Rural Engineer. His help is yours without cost or obligation.

NEW BOOK IN THE COUNTY LIBRARY

Teacher, Anne Sullivan Macy, by Helen Keller.

When Helen Keller, blind, deaf and mute, was six years old, a young woman named Anne Sullivan entered her life. The daughter of Irish immigrants, Miss Sullivan was poor, ill, and nearly blind herself. She was inexperienced as a teacher. Yet she had the relentless vitality that was to force her pupil's unwilling mind from the depths of unconsciousness. To attempt to reach the intelligence of a young girl who fought the dark, silent world about her with temper tantrums and stubbornness —this was no project for an inexperienced young woman. But Anne Sullivan refused to admit defeat. When Helen was 22 Miss Sullivan's untiring efforts were rewarded; her pupil was able to speak the words, "I am not dumb now." It was one of the most dramatic achievements in the history of teaching.
